HARDWOOD

Hubert Davis'
a POV film

along with

The HOUSE WE LIVE IN

Academy Award-nominated "Hardwood" is a filmic journey by director Hubert Davis, the son of former Harlem Globetrotter Mel Davis. Mel fell in love with Hubert's mother, a white woman, at a time when racism seemed to make their union impossible; instead, he chose to marry a black woman, with whom he also had a son. The filmmaker unites both sides of his family and speaks movingly about the complex web of love, betrayal and family ties.

"The House We Live In", from the PBS series "Race: The Power of an Illusion", is the first film on race to focus on the ways institutions and policies advantage some at the expense of others.
